

Remote Internship Opportunity:

Communications Intern

Communications and Fundraising

Honeyguide Foundation Tanzania

Website: www.honeyguide.org

Contact point: intern@honeyguide.org

Start Date: September 25th

Duration: 3 months with possibility of extension

What is the Honeyguide Foundation?

Honeyguide is a grassroots, non-profit, non-governmental organization based in Tanzania dedicated to supporting communities and the conservation of wildlife and natural resources through long-term community partnerships. Our name comes from the African Honeyguide, a bird that actively guides humans and honey badgers to beehives. We chose it as our symbol as it is a beautiful example of the symbiotic relationship between humans and wildlife and of successful partnerships in general.

Honeyguide's primary focus is to build capacity for the sustainable governance of community-owned Wildlife Management Areas (WMAs) and to promote human-wildlife coexistence.

Honeyguide works with community members from WMA villages, the WMA governing body (a community-based organization called the Authorized Association), WMA management teams, village game scouts, anti-poaching units, private investors, partner NGOs and social enterprises as well as relevant government stakeholders. Proving that community-based conservation (CBC) & community-based natural resource management (CBNRM) can be successful approaches to environmental challenges by showing that the WMA model can produce both ecological and social benefits for wildlife and people is what we are working towards. Our vision is that communities and wildlife in Tanzania will benefit from coexistence and thrive for generations to come.

Figure: Protected areas of Tanzania (including WMAs)

WE NEED YOUR HELP:

Communications Support

Are you passionate about effective communication and its power to drive positive change? Join our team as a Communications Intern and play a vital role in sharing our organization's narrative. This internship offers a unique opportunity to develop a diverse range of communication materials while contributing to Honeyguide's conservation mission.

Responsibilities include:

Annual Reports: Collaborate with team members to compile and create visually appealing annual reports that highlight our achievements, milestones, and goals.

Fundraising Materials: Craft compelling materials to support fundraising efforts.

Website copy development: Enhance our online presence by developing engaging and informative content for our website.

Impact Report: Work closely with our team to produce our 2023 impact report that demonstrates the outcome of our projects this past year.

Story maps: Create captivating story maps that visually narrate the journey and impact of a WMA.

Applicant requirements:

- Fluent in English.
- Strong written and verbal communication skills.
- Attention to detail and ability to work collaboratively and independently. .
- Bachelor's degree (or currently studying) in relevant field (i.e. Communications, Journalism, Sustainability, Natural Resource Management, Development Studies, Sociology, etc.)
- Motivational letter (no more than 1 page)
- Curriculum Vitae (CV)
- 2-3 Writing samples illustrating your ability to fulfill the internship responsibilities.

Applicant preferences (not required but favorable):

- Graphic design skills and experience using software such as Canva and Microsoft programs.
- Experience in website development.
- Familiarity with the region of East Africa and Tanzania specifically.
- Swahili language proficiency.

Additional information:

- This is an unpaid remote internship.
- You can register for this internship with your university in order to receive ECT credits.
 - Both academic and professional internships are possible.
- You will be provided with a certificate of completion and there is potential to be provided a reference letter (depending on performance).

Please submit motivational letter, writing samples and curriculum vitae (CV)
by September 15th to the following e-mail:

intern@honeyguide.org

Please put in the subject line: Communications Intern